GEN. GRANT, after twenty-two years of army life, is said to have never uttered a profane word nor had a personal quarrel—Reading Exchange.

And never got drunk, and wallowed in the gutters; never loafed around bar-rooms and spouted on strangers for a drink; never lived with a Digger squaw, as her husband; never was caught in open, barefaced, unblushing lies, and had them nailed to him by President Johnson; never betrayed a trust; never carried a halberd along with him to steal the silver from Southern tables; never got drunk and made a beastly and indecent exposure of his person on the Sabbath day, on Pennsylvania avenue in Washington City—no, he never did any of these things—not he!

The Heated Term.

Seven deaths from sun-stroke occurred in Cincinnati on Monday.

Within the fortnight hours ending

Sunday afternoon, there were ten cases of sun-stroke in Buffalo, seven of which have proved fatal.

In Chicago on Sunday and Monday the deaths from the same cause numbered five or six.

Tennessee.

—Mr. Morris Carr, President of the Nashville and Northwestern Railroad, while riding the horse car on Monday last, in Nashville, being involved in a difficulty with a man lately employed on the Northwestern Road, and was quite severely beaten before his antago-nists could be restrained.

The grand ratification meeting to welcome returning delegates from New York, and to ratify the nomination of the Fourth of July Convention, will be held in Nashville to-night.

A detachment of thirty men of the Fifth cavalry, under command of Lieut.

Schenck, has gone to Knoxville.

The Banner of the 14th says: We are authorized on the authority of J. W.

Brown, Superintendent of the Winchester and Alabama Railroad, and several other gentlemen, to pronounce a hoax the story about the killing of a white man and a negro at Brighton.

The same paper says: We learn from a passenger from Chattanooga that a soldier was killed on Saturday day by a citizen, who struck him on the head twice with a stone. It is said that the soldier was intoxicated, and had several times, unprovoked, used insulting and abusive language towards the citizen.

The same paper has the following:

More wild stories of bloodshed and murder reached this city from Macon yesterday. On Sunday night, two or three negroes entered a room in which a young man named Freedman was sleeping, on the farm of his father, James Freedman, some three miles from Columbia, and before he could make any resistance, buried his knife in his throat, cutting it from ear to ear. The man needed to mutilate his body in a most horrible manner, afterwards escaping.

Yesterday morning a negro man and a negro woman were arrested and brought to Columbia, on charge of having murdered young Freedman. The woman is said to have been lodged in jail, but her accomplices were immediately released by a party of white men, who carried him out of the place, and are believed to have lynched him somewhere in the woods not far from town. One of the negroes supposed to have been concerned in the murder of Freedman is still at large. Two other white men, and a negro, have been similarly murdered since Sunday morning, but no reliable particulars have yet reached here.

Cure for Hydropneumonia.

The recipe is that of M. Cassar, a French physician. Take two table spoons of fresh chloride of lime, mix with half a pint of water, and with this wash the wound constantly, washed and frequently renewed. The chloride gas possesses the power of decomposing this treacherous poison, and renders mild and harmless. I have used it with successful results against the artillery of medical science, have been long directed in vain.

It is necessary to use this remedy as soon as possible after the infliction of the wound. The following are the names of persons admitted into Breckin Hospital in 1862, of whom only two died, from 1730 to 1824, there were admitted to the hospital at Zurich, 223 persons bitten by rabid animals, 183 by dogs of whom only four died.

A man calling himself a "professor" advertised an entertainment in St. Louis the other night, at which he was to expose the mysteries of spiritual manifestations, allow himself to be shot at with pistols, and let the audience into all the secrets of jugglery. After appearing behind the audience and requesting those who desired to shoot at him to prepare their pistols, he went behind the stage curtain and that was the last of him.

He obtained about $300, and left his tent and printing bills unpaid.

We learn from a Cincinnati cotem-porary that the work of laying the narrow gauge rail of the Ohio and Mississippi railway has commenced. Large numbers of workmen have been employed, and it is expected it will be completed in a week.

CONGRESSIONAL.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Drake called up the House bill to amend certain acts relative to the Maryland militia corps.

The amendment of the Naval Committee was agreed to and the bill passed.

Wilson introduced a bill to reduce the army to a peace establishment, which was referred to the Committee on Military.

The special order for the day being the Indian appropriation bill, it was called up, and the Senate insisted on its amendment to the Maryland militia corps.

The executive departments, and Cocking, Edmonds and Vickers were appointed on the Committee on Commerce.

The Indian appropriation bill was again taken up, and a number of trifling amendments from the Committee on Appropriations and Indian Affairs were discussed, including $500,000 for presents for the Indians, without final disposition of the bill.

Sherman made a lengthy report from the Committee of Conference on the tax bill, which was agreed to.

The Senate then went into Executive session, and soon after adjourned.

committee to investigate the disbursements of the Contingent Fund during 1857 and 1858.

David Hays, member elect from North Carolina, took his seat.

The Senate adjourned to the bill relieving the political disabilities from certain persons, which was agreed to.

The report from the Committee of Conference on the tax bill was also agreed to, and the bill goes to the President.

The removal of spirits in bond is required to be placed in the hands of the revenue officers, and the bill is now in the hands of the President.

The special tax on distilleries remains as before.

The tax on the sales of wholesale retail dealers is to be 1 per cent.

The force of revenue officers is reduced one-half.
